Introduction

The Migrants' Rights Network has evolved since 2006 from a research and policy-focused organisation to one that campaigns and stands in solidarity with all migrants in their fights for rights and justice. We co-curate campaigns using anti-oppression practices to create transformational change, extending beyond the individual impact on migrants' lives, to tackle oppression at its source. We believe it is not enough to reform structures and systems which are foundationally discriminatory. We are calling for a complete overhaul, and for migrants, including refugees to lead that change.

We are now slowly but surely embedding a transformational change approach into our work and practices, and we are excited to continue this in the coming years. This means we need leadership from trustees who are going to keep this front and centre of our strategy and objectives.

We are looking for trustees who want to contribute to the governance of an organisation that is in pursuit of systemic change, whilst centring migrant voices and experiences, and embedding our campaigning and policy work within a migrant-led agenda to help make a just society for migrants a reality.

About Migrants' Rights Network

The Migrants' Rights Network is a UK charity that stands in solidarity with all migrants in their fights for rights and justice. We co-curate campaigns using anti-oppression practices to create transformational change, extending beyond the individual impact on migrants' lives, to tackle oppression at its source.

We believe everyone has the right to live a dignified life in a society free from all forms of oppression and discrimination.

MRN's vision is a society in which:

People should be free to move because migration is and has always been an integral part of the human experience.

Everyone, including all migrants, should live in a society which is free from all forms of oppression and discrimination.

Nobody's access to safety, rights and security should be determined by their immigration status.

“Everyone free to move and no-one forced to move”

To achieve this, we build relationships with grassroots, migrant-led organisations to understand the issues that are important to them and how we can work together to achieve immediate and transformational change.

We particularly focus on issues that are less notable or publicly palatable, and can be overlooked. We do this to ensure that ALL migrant groups and communities that are seldom heard have access to platforms, support and resources to advocate for themselves and achieve change.

We are taking a proactive anti-oppression approach in how we work alongside migrants, including refugees, and other organisations. We do not want to replicate the harms that our systems inflict on our communities.

This approach is strengthened by our core value to be intersectional. It is only through understanding the nature of compounded and interlocking harms that we can recognise the intrinsic link between different struggles, and this enables us to strive for solidarity across and beyond borders.

Our work takes many forms, but includes:

- Using our platform to raise awareness of pressing issues amongst politicians and policy makers, and in the media.
- Working with individuals and/or organisations to build campaigns and links with legal experts in order to pursue strategic litigation.
- Building an evidence-base for change by co-curating with affected migrants to inform our work and the work of others, to better understand the issues.
- Promoting partnership and collaboration between different causes and campaigns, to enable information and resource sharing.
- Informing migrant communities on their rights through our tailored resources and training.
- Developing alternative narratives to counter harmful rhetoric and narratives around migration through informative and creative campaigns.

How do we achieve this?

MRN maintain its core principles to:

- Take a flexible, agile and adaptive approach to every issue.
- Redistribute resources, access, information, knowledge and space to migrants and grassroots organisations.
- Embed and practise our values and work in an inclusive and accessible way.
- Be led by the opinions, views and experiences of migrants and grassroots organisations, and be willing to be challenged ourselves.
- Put ourselves on the frontline for migrants and grassroots groups, including intervening in legal challenges on behalf of affected communities.
- Challenge the status quo so that MRN can always think from a radical perspective.
- Recognise the power and privilege that MRN holds and aim to redistribute that where possible, acknowledging and respecting the expertise and lived experience of others.
- Recognise that charities and NGOs can easily become 'part of the problem' when they fall into the trap of competing for resources, platforms and funding. MRN believes that we are stronger together and strives to cultivate partnerships based on trust, solidarity and transparency.
- Tackle oppression at its source through transformational change, to achieve justice for ALL migrants.

Values

- Migrant-centred

We place at the heart of our work the experiences and perspectives of migrants to ensure we are accountable to those impacted by immigration and wider policies and practices.

- Equity for all migrants

We work for the rights and justice of ALL migrants, and focus on issues that are side-lined or underrepresented.

- Collaboration

We team up with migrants, grassroots organisations, activists, lawyers and academics to oppose hostile and unfair policies, tackle negative media narratives and campaign for transformational change.

- Intersectional

We approach and inform our work with the understanding that people will experience multiple interconnected forms of oppression, where immigration status/migration experience is but one factor.

- Leadership

We strive to be daring, determined and speak 'truth to power' to obtain justice and equality for migrants. We also recognise that where we hold power, we must be held to account by those affected by immigration systems.

- Solidarity

We build the power of those affected by the immigration system and work in alliances to create movements which strengthen efforts to further the rights of ALL migrants.

The Network

We bring people together in order to share our collective resources and expertise, and to build solidarity between movements, campaigns and communities.

While we are not a formal network, we work to establish and strengthen connections. Whether that is making links between the race equality sector and the migrants' rights sector, or between an individual and a legal expert who may be able to take on their case. We believe it is through building bonds between people that we have the greatest opportunity to achieve transformational change.

Our Team

Our Priorities

Immigration remains a contentious issue, and is the easy scapegoat for politicians and the media alike. Conversations about immigration, migrants, including refugees have intensified for several reasons, enabling politicians to be seen to be 'tougher' on immigration. This 'toughness' has led to an acceleration of policies and legislation to make the lives of some migrants, including refugees more complicated and to make it more difficult for them to make the UK their home.

Migration is not a crime, and we will continue our fight for the rights and justice for all migrants. We will particularly work on issues and affected communities that are overlooked and to shift the narratives around migration. We are focusing on the objectives in the strategy 2022-2025 but will be embarking on developing a new strategy. For now, we remain focused on the following:

- ◆ Change- We will focus on the systemic 'change' needed for migrants to thrive in our society. We will remain reactive but we must start to become proactive and pre-emptive to imagine our vision in practice.
- ◆ Strengthen- For change to take place, we must ensure that migrants are their own 'change-makers'. This means ensuring that those with lived experience of migration and being a migrant in the UK are front and centre of MRN's campaigns and activities.
- ◆ Defy- We are moving past the point of challenging narratives, and want to delve deeper into creating new and inclusive narratives that are then reflected and boosted by others.

The Role of an MRN Trustee

As with any small charitable organisation, we are reliant on the skills and dedication of the trustees to support the organisation. We pride ourselves on a diverse board which primarily consists of those with the lived migrant, including refugee experiences.

As a trustee, you are instrumental in ensuring that MRN is achieving its objectives and purpose, and it is complying with its governing document and other legal requirements. Trustees are key to developing and delivering the strategy that will help drive the organisation forward.

Through a skills audit and analysis of our gaps, we have identified the need for someone with significant human resources (HR) experience to have a full complement of skills and knowledge on the board.

We want to reflect the communities we engage with, and therefore want to continue to attract those with the lived experience of migrating or the refugee system, who are from racialised or migratised backgrounds. We are also keen for those under 25 to apply.

As a trustee you will be able to apply your significant skills and abilities, while working alongside devoted and enthusiastic trustees and staff who are committed to working and campaigning for the rights of all migrants.
